KitBrix

KitBrix bags are tough and durable, used best in training or on race day. It is the only kit organisation system that encourages you to 'train as you fight', keeping your kit together, ensuring you are ready.

Interchangeable icons on the end plate of each bag enable easy kit recognition for all sports. Use KitBrix hard-wearing bags every day and zip together in whatever configuration suits you.

Essential for any athlete, family or sports team, maximise training time, reduce storage and organisational pain of everyday kit organisation and transfer.

Keeping you combat ready.

Kit Straps

KitBrix has used an old military technique of separating kit and equipment and created the KitBrix KitStraps.

Simply insert the hook end of the strap through the buckle. Pull the hook end back over until the strap body is wrapped tightly.

Perfect for expeditions where different daily kit requires separation as well as activity breaks where multiple items run risk of being packed loose in the same bag.

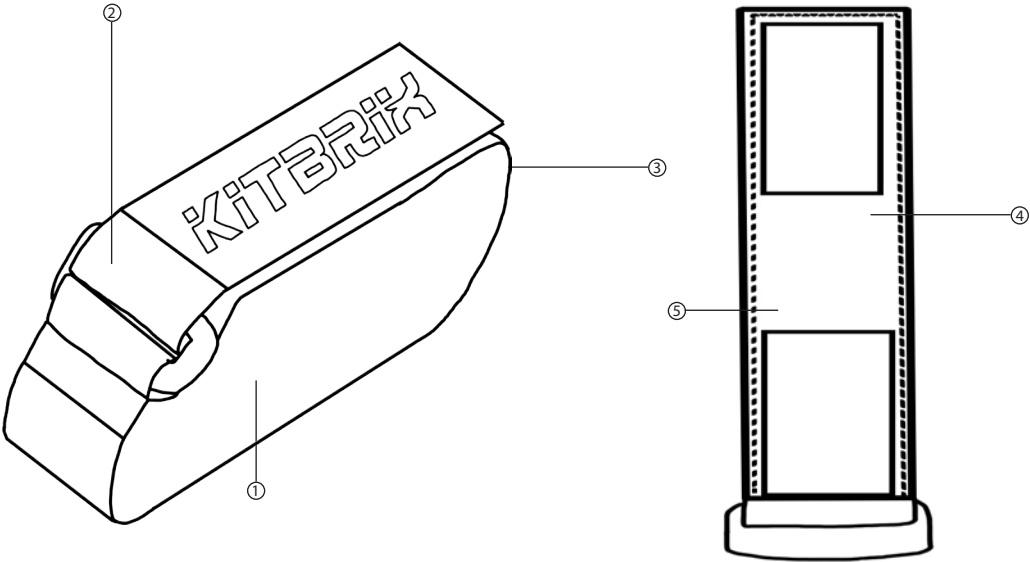

No one likes messy kit. Stow your gear.
